

Biologique Recherche Microneedling (Micropuncture Lab)

The Micropuncture lab method is based on the skin's capacity to regenerate itself when stimulated. Micro-perforations cause minor epidermal inflammation, activating a repair phase that rebuilds the "damaged" skin tissue. When micro-perforations occur, a release of growth factors stimulate fibroblast activity, which proceeds to produce collagen and elastin - essential to skin health. The end result: skin is refined, fine lines and wrinkles are smoothed, and cutaneous imperfections such as scars are minimized.

This is a full facial performed by your skincare therapist, but in addition to the usual customized masks, serums, creams, finishing serums, relaxing massage, etc, they will microneedle an incredible multi-active, targeted serum into the skin.

Cocktail d'Actifs Régénérants

Brimming with benefits and derived from cutting-edge biotechnology, this cocktail provides 13 vitamins, 5 peptides, 24 amino acids, and 7 minerals. It activates cellular regeneration, protects against the harmful effects of free radicals, and boosts the skin's protective functions while improving epidermal moisture and tone.

Benefits to Micropuncture

This method is based on superficial micro-stimulation, only going 0.25mm deep into the skin, and is done by a trained skincare therapist. Most patients find this technique to be very comfortable and tolerable. Unlike mesotherapy, micropuncture does not lift the epidermis and therefore does not cause trauma. In addition, the needle application area, measuring about 1cm in diameter, is significantly more accurate than the roller used in mesotherapy, enabling targeted and controllable results.
